Users plan 'unfair' rail fares fight

BY ALICIA BABAEE
alicia.babaee@mk-news.co.uk

A RAIL users group says it will fight for commuters' rights this year following another increase in fares.

The rallying cry comes as travellers experienced massive disruption during the first few days of the New Year due to engineering works taking longer than expected.

The Milton Keynes Rail Users Group (MKRUG) is critical of the rise in fares which it claims average 4.8 per cent.

Some off-peak fares will rise even more than that.

In December a peak return travelcard to London Euston cost £30.90. For tomorrow it would cost £37.70 with either London Midland or Virgin, which both operate out of Milton Keynes.

An off-peak return costs £13.50 on London Midland – a rise from £12.90 – while the same journey on Virgin costs £19.20, up from £18.30.

Currently a twelve-month season ticket between Milton Keynes and Euston, without tube or bus access, costs £3,604.

Jill Hope, press officer for the group, said: "Commuters are fed up of year-on-year increases in the cost of travelling into London.

"It is good for the environment that train use is increasing, but in most markets an increased usage brings the price down, but not on the railways.

"This can't go on indefinitely – most commuters are not getting pay increases of 4.8 per cent or anything like that, so the increase eats into their standard of living year after year.

"If the service was improving, then an annual increase would be understandable, but the service is slower than it was in 2004, and it is more crowded. Many commuters regularly stand for the whole journey in both directions every day."

Current disruption could mean rail passengers face chaos until the weekend.

Work on overhead electrical lines on the West Coast Main Line at Rugby in Warwickshire had been due to finish on Monday. But the job proved more complex than first thought and Network Rail did not have enough engineers to complete it on time.

Other work at London Liverpool Street station was not finished and a fire in a cafe closed Birmingham International station.

A press release from Network Rail said: "Network Rail apologises to passengers who were hoping to travel on these lines and understands how frustrating this situation is for everyone.

"These are extremely complex projects and we are working around the clock to get trains running again as soon as possible."

Mrs Hope added: "MKRUG will be talking actively to commuters in early 2008 to work out a plan of action to ensure that Milton Keynes commuters are not taken for granted any longer."

A spokesman for London Midland said: "We announced price changes in December which took effect from January.

"Apart from some fares from Birmingham everything has gone up by 4.8 per cent."

Money, money, money. The Wishing Well appeal cash was collected yesterday from thecentre:mk. There are high hopes this year will be the biggest ever. Story page 8

Stamp of approval for Bond creator

BY ROB GIBSON
rob.gibson@mk-news.co.uk

A SPY plan devised by James Bond creator Ian Fleming will become a collector's item at Bletchley Park.

During the Second World War, the Navy commander was inspired by the intelligence work at Bletchley to produce 'Operation Ruthless' to help capture the German Enigma codes.

Bletchley Park Post Office will launch the new James Bond stamp issue on Tuesday, with a first day cover which includes the Operation Ruthless plan.

One thousand limited edition souvenirs have been produced, but only 500 covers are available.

Operation Ruthless was a typical Bond-style plot by Fleming.

It involved the capture of a German bomber which would be crash-landed in the Channel before the crew, disguised in German uniform, overpowered the enemy's rescue boat and recovered the codebooks for the code breakers at Bletchley.

The plan was abandoned due to the lack of German boats operating at night and Frank Birch, head of the German Naval Section at Bletchley Park, was quoted as saying: "Turing and Twinn (key code-breakers at the park) came to me like undertakers cheated of a nice corpse... all in a stew about the cancellation of Operation Ruthless."

Fleming would later turn such plots into fiction, earning him literary fame as the man behind 007.

The stampsdepict all the early book jackets for the Bond series and designer George Thompson has taken this theme into the first day cover design.

Issue price is £15 but the cover can only be obtained from Bletchley Park PO at The Mansion or at www.bletchleycovers.com

Not guilty plea by Buddha bouncer

Doorman denies provoking violence outside city nightclub

BY ALICIA BABAEE
alicia.babaee@mk-news.co.uk

A DOORMAN charged with trying to provoke violence outside Buddha Blue nightclub has pleaded not guilty.

Arif Hamid, 27, pictured right, of Goodrington Place, Broughton, appeared at Milton Keynes Magistrate's court on Wednesday.

The incident is alleged to have taken place outside the Theatre District nightclub on December 2.

He is charged with one count of using threatening, abusive, or insulting words or behaviour towards two members of the public contrary to section four of the Public Order Act 1986.

Mr Hamid was released on conditional bail until his preliminary hearing at the end of month.

After an emergency meeting of the licensing sub-committee following the incident, Buddha Blue management has been ordered to meet with police weekly until the full review later this month.

Three doormen have been banned from working there until the committee holds a full review in January.

Snapper is packing ice after puck ruck

BY ALICIA BABAEE
alicia.babaee@mk-news.co.uk

A PHOTOGRAPHER got more than he bargained for when taking snaps at an ice hockey match – he was hit in the face with a puck.

Jez Tibbetts, 30, from Monkston, was rushed to hospital as blood poured from the gash just under his left eye.

He was given two stitches deep inside and five more to close the wound.

The puck flew towards Mr Tibbetts after it was hit by a Telford player in their match against MK Lightning at Planet Ice.

But the brave freelance photographer who supplies pics for MK NEWS says he's aware of the risks when he turns up to the game each week.

He said: "Basically I stand next to the rink in various spots throughout the evening, but have a little set of steps to get me above the level of the glass to get clear photos.

"A natural hazard of being so close to the ice without any protection is the chance a puck could come over the glass and strike you.

"Unfortunately for me I was very close to the action at the time and the puck was shot directly into my face by the Telford player, I'm not sure who but he did enquire after the game with the MKL management if they had heard how I was."

Mr Tibbetts a father of three, managed to keep his balance before climbing down from the steps and sitting down on them.

Medical staff rushed to his aid.

He said: "I must admit at this stage I did not realise I had been cut, but it soon became clear from the reaction of the spectators looking at me that I did not look pretty. Effectively my face had been spilt open and there was a lot of blood.

"Pete Nolan, the MKL team medic reacted very fast and sprinted round from the team bench the other side of the ice rink and was there to assist my plight in what felt like seconds.

"It won't stop me being there this Saturday, camera in hand taking more pictures.

"Hopefully the only lightning to strike twice will be the the MK Lightning."

He expressed his thanks to the fans, players, and staff for their concern, and to the hospital team who looked after him.

His stitches will be removed on Friday.

Fans have been discussing the incident on the ice hockey forum.

Lightning won the match 10-1.

Councillor assaulted in fracas over car

A COUNCILLOR was on the receiving end of an assault four days before Christmas.

Cllr Jaime Tamigini Barbosa challenged a man who kicked his car and was then assaulted.

A spokesman for Thames Valley Police said: "A pedestrian walked in front of a car in Aylesbury Street.

"The car had to stop and the pedestrian, a local man, kicked the car.

"When he was challenged by the driver he assaulted him.

"The pedestrian was arrested and taken to Milton Keynes police station where he was questioned before being released on bail."

He is due to answer bail later this month.

English burial for death crash brother and sister

THE brother and sister from Oldbrook who died in a car crash before their grandmother's funeral in Northern Ireland on New Year's Eve, will be returned to England for burial.

Thomas James Maughan, 16, and his sister Siobhan Caroline, 22, were passengers in a Mercedes which collided with a Volkswagen Passat in Ulster just after 9.30am.

The funeral service of Margaret Maughan was stopped temporarily as mourners awaited news.

They were travelling towards Irvinestown in Enniskillen. The driver of the Volkswagen was taken to hospital for treatment.

Getting the wind up

SIR – Re: The proposed wind farm at Petsoe Manor Farm House, Emberton.

I am writing on behalf of Emberton Parish Council who represent the parishioners of Emberton to express concern at the way in which the development control committee meeting was conducted on Monday, December 17 in council chambers of Milton Keynes Council.

All council meetings must adhere to strict standing orders which obviously was not the case as the issue of 'declarations of interest' was not dealt with until later in the meeting.

There was very little debate amongst councillors, apart from Cllr Bint who raised several important issues.

One main concern is that the developer, Your Energy, have still not specified which turbines will be used. Surely this needs to be stipulated in order to permit/refuse a planning application?

A member of the public would not be able to make an application for an extension without stating the nature of the materials to be used and the scale of the application.

The wind farm planning application is of extreme importance to Emberton. In fact, in September 2006 a vote was taken by Emberton parishioners to decide whether or not they wanted a wind farm in the area. Of the 58.6 per cent of the electoral roll that voted, 85 per cent of parishioners (247 residents) were against this planning application compared to 13.1 per cent (38 residents) being for it.

I understand that this is also the case in the other 14 parish councils that responded to the planning application. These figures were not obviously taken into consideration by the development control committee when reaching their decision.

Karen Goss
Clerk to Emberton Parish Council

■ SIR – Re the planning meeting for the wind farm at the Civic Offices on Monday December 17 2007.

I attended the above planning meeting which was for a very important issue and I was highly disturbed by the way this meeting was conducted. There was no real debate. No considered alternative view was put forward and the whole meeting felt biased.

The information provided to councillors had not been fully absorbed. One councillor had only received the papers at 4pm that afternoon and said they had not had time to read them properly.

Bearing in mind the stunning beauty of the location proposed this was a highly irresponsible meeting.

It is very disturbing to think that decisions of this nature are taken so lightly.

Mrs Prudence Radmore
Olney

■ SIR – My wife and I attended the development control committee meeting on December 17 when the proposal to erect a seven-turbine wind farm at Petsoe was determined.

We wish to express our concern about the way in which the meeting was conducted. The standard of debate was poor, and despite the large number of objectors present, from the start the meeting appeared biased towards the grant of planning permission.

Committee members admitted that they had not received important information until a short time before the meeting. Some documents had not been read by members, and they were perplexed about the decision which they had to make.

"Ambiguous," said Cllr Isabella Fraser. "I don't know which side to believe," said Cllr Tamagnini-Barbosa.

There was no independent evaluation from a local council planning officer. Rather, the report submitted by consultants White Young Green, whose main activity is working for wind farm developers, was taken as a recommendation.

The report which formed the basis of the planning officer's recommendation made little reference to the reservations and arguments against the application submitted by organisations such as BLEW and Emberton Parish Council. The representations of the local parish and town councils, representing 14,000 people, seemed to count for nothing.

Major issues, such as the correct wind speed data, why the masts need to be so high, and the implications of making a grid connection to Milton Keynes were glossed over or not discussed at all.

Empty manger shows that God's not just for Christmas

SIR – I couldn't help a wry smile when reading your headline for issue number 277, 'Away from a manger'.

This very thing happened to us at Christ the Vine Community Church, Coffee Hall, some years ago.

It illustrates wonderfully what the Christmas story is all about, that is, that Jesus didn't stay in a manger but grew up and eventually died for humankind.

So while I deplore stealing of any kind, an empty manger shouldn't 'present a sad image' rather it reminds us that Jesus is not permanently in a manger, is no longer a baby, but became incarnate to be 'God with Us' and not just for Christmas!

A very happy New Year to you and your readers.
Rev David Rudiger
Christ the Vine Community Church, Coffee Hall

■ SIR – Given the MK Council planning committee's decision to allow a wind farm at Petsoe, a not especially windy site, how long before they pass a motion to allow a tidal barrage generator on the Ouse?

Puppet show

SIR – I would like to apologise to the 267 council tenants of Bradville and Stantonbury who signed the petition to stop the closure of Bradville Housing Office.

I realise now that I was wrong to give you the impression that the cabinet of MKC would listen to the arguments we put forward.

It was silly of me to think we have a democratic system where the cabinet would go against the party line.

The evening started with the pre-cabinet meeting – closed to everyone but the Cabinet members – where all the decisions are really made.

The main cabinet meeting was pathetic. Straight after two members praised me for putting over a good argument, Irene Henderson pulled a string and her puppets all raised their hands to sound the death knell on the housing office. There was NO discussion by cabinet members.

The report prepared by a council official quoted some wild figures, it stated (among other over-inflated figures) to re-felt and replace the timbers on the 240m sq building would cost £28,000 whereas we had received a quote of £7,500-£8,000.

It stated footfall in 2006-7 into the HO was 11 people per day, whereas we had observed three separate days where footfall was 25, 29 and 31 respectively. How can the cabinet make a decision on the basis of a report with so many inaccuracies?

We are calling in the cabinet decision which means it will have to go to the policy development committee; this has Conservative and Labour members on it as well as Lib Dems so there should be more chance for a debate.

We shall continue to fight for the rights of residents even though Irene Henderson has destroyed the Housing Forum and attempted to restrict the voice of tenant representatives by bringing in individual tenants to sit on committees such as the Building Services Group where three individual tenants who do not represent anyone else make decisions for all of Milton Keynes tenants.

The Tenants Resource Centre is no longer run by tenants; the council is regularly breaching your Tenancy Agreement as they are refusing to mend fences and they are not consulting with the Housing Forum over increases in rents (as they have disbanded it).

This administration is now demonstrating a total lack of democracy and I hope that you will all remember it in May 2008 when local elections are held.

Margaret Burke
Chairman, Bradville North End Residents' Association

Beach beached

SIR – It is now nearly five years since I first brought up the prospect of a beach in Milton Keynes.

Since then, in spite of money being no problem, the council is still prevaricating, always finding excuses of some kind to delay what I got elected on, to fight for this beach.

Yet they have no problem in granting full permission to the developers to build, build, build. Could this have something to do with profit from business rates?

Most of us came here to get away from the concrete jungles we were already living in, now every square yard of Milton Keynes seems to be turning into another business park.

I tell you now, that unless something is done, we might just as well have stayed in Glasgow, London, or Manchester and Liverpool for all the good this council is doing.

If this council will still not listen to the will of the people, then come election time, get rid of them and get those that will.

Anita Rose, Great Linford

Bill Billings at the October unveiling of his last piece in Wolverton's Secret Garden

Dinosaur sculptor dies

ARTIST Bill Billings died after suffering a heart attack on Boxing Day.

Already tributes have flooded in for the 69-year-old, most famous for sculpting the concrete dinosaur at Peartree Bridge.

It is understood that Bill, who was awarded an MBE, suffered the heart attack at home.

His close friend Jon Gregory said: "I spoke with Bill the Wednesday before he died to invite him over for Christmas drinks. A party without Bill around was not the same.

"He said he would make it if he could as he was going into hospital for some routine checks on his heart, but I guess fate had other plans for him.

"He was a great character and played a pioneering role in the early days of Milton Keynes.

"He was a great artist but lousy businessman as he virtually gave away most of his paintings.

"The ones he gave me I will cherish and I take this opportunity to send his family my sincerest condolences."

Last year Bill – an ex Royal Signals soldier – spoke at his good friend Ernest Bottomley's funeral.

Jon Gregory, Mr Bottomley's son-in-law, added: "He was like everyone's favourite grandfather. He was well respected and will be sorely missed."

In 1974 Bill started making play sculptures for children at Netherfield and it was in 2000 that he received an MBE for his work as an inspiring artist working with communities.

Former MK NEWS reporter and local author Lee Scriven said: "He was inspirational and encouraging to so many of us. He will be sadly missed."

The funeral will take place on Thursday at 1.45pm at St Peter & St Paul Church, Newport Pagnell.

Council cries 'foul' on dirty dog owners

BY ALICIA BABAEE
alicia.babaee@mk-news.co.uk

IRRESPONSIBLE dog owners could be in trouble as Milton Keynes Council steps up its action against dog fouling.

Last year Milton Keynes Council issued just two fines to people whose dogs had fouled.

It did not issue a single fine for people failing to control their dogs.

From April 2006 to March 2007, 3,675 fines were issued nationally for dogs fouling and 165 penalty notices were given to people for failing to control their dogs.

Cities such as Manchester and Leeds issued several hundred fines.

The figures were released by the government's Department for Environment, Food and Rural Affairs (Defra)

Cllr Liz Campbell is gunning for tigher controls after the national statistics revealed the council's poor record in this area.

In September the council said that they had received 39 complaints regarding dog fouling for the year so far.

Cllr Douglas McCall, cabinet member with responsibility for environment responded to a written question saying that eight alleged offenders had been spoken to, five properties had been visited, two emails and 44 warning letters had been sent, 45 signs had been put up, 80 stray dogs had been reported and eight dangerous dogs had been reported.

He said that three fixed penalties had been issued and that one of those was being followed up with a view to prosecution.

Cllr Liz Campbell with daughter Alice and one of her dogs in Far Bletchley

Cllr Campbell said: "There is no excuse for letting your dog foul the pavement, and as a parent, I know the risks to children of playing near dog excrement.

"Milton Keynes Council is wrong to ignore this problem. Other cities have raised significant amounts of money by fining irresponsible dog owners (Leeds Council raised over £7000).

"This money can then be spent on better enforcement."

She added: "Hardly a week goes by without a newspaper reporting a tragic story about an uncontrolled dog attacking another dog or its owner.

"Yet the Lib Dem cabinet has failed to tackle this growing problem."

Cllr Campbell praised the work of parish councils such as West Bletchley that have paid to install and empty dog mess bins because Milton Keynes Council refused to do so.

She said: "Cllr Douglas McCall has stated that MKC spends £23,000 per year on dog-related enforcement but he seems to have very little to show for it. The Government has passed important new legislation to control dogs, so it's time for the Council to stop talking and take some action. "

A spokesman for Milton Keynes Council said: "The criteria surrounding issuing fixed penalties are very tight – you've got to literally catch someone 'in the act', ie a dog needs to be caught fouling and the owner/minder has to blatantly walk away without any kind of attempt to pick it up, so even two or three is a solid result.

"We don't have dog control areas in Milton Keynes, which is the legislation for enforcing this would spring from.

"We decided some time ago that because the parishes also have a responsibility for dealing with dog fouling – it is their responsibility to put in dog waste bins – that we would not ask for these powers."

Wind farm worries

SIR– The planning meeting held on December 17 to consider the merits of building a new wind farm at Emberton was a classic case of local democracy gone wrong.

It was quite clear that local opinion, as represented by those most directly affected by the development rather than those simply viewing events from afar, is overwhelmingly opposed to this project. Given that the area affected by the proposed development is the highest rated area of unspoilt countryside within the entire Milton Keynes area, one expected to hear an overwhelmingly convincing argument for building this development in this particular location and thereby irretrievably changing this beautiful landscape for ever.

This compelling argument never materialised.

Yes we heard a lot of what indeed may be wise words about the need to support renewable energy but at what cost.

What was clear is that we seem to have the wrong type of wind in this area as it is simply not strong enough - hardly surprising given the local terrain and the distance we are from the sea!

Each turbine is at least twice the height of Olney Church.

This will create a structure that will be visible for miles around but yet it doesn't seem that there is actually enough wind to operate these turbines efficiently. In the meantime this beautiful unspoilt countryside will be ruined for the local residents for ever as we all know that once planning permission is accepted for the wind farm other developments will follow.

One was left with the overwhelming impression that the local councillors were far more interested in being seen to 'tick the box' as far as demonstrating a commitment to renewable energy rather than debating the merits of this particular case.

There are obviously serious issues that need to be debated here but it would be nice to think that this could be done within the confines of some sort of 'joined-up' thinking between local and national goverment.

Yet we are left with a situation where national goverment is now thinking offshore as far as building new wind farms is concerned, our European neighbours are questioning their previous support for wind farms, but in the meantime the lights at the council building were shining brightly well into the night as the disgruntled local residents left the planning meeting.

Trevor Roberts
sent by e-mail

■ SIR – I am writing about my disgust at the way the planning committee meeting was conducted on December 17.

If this is how local politics works then I have to come to the conclusion that our many of our councillors are simply not in touch with their constituents, are serving their own agendas, and are sacrificing Olney and surrounding villages to give the impression to the wider country that Milton Keynes is a progressive city.

Firstly I should point out that from my recollection, the main supporters of the development were all from the proposed developer, I was sitting just behind at least 20 or so of the company representatives and associates, it was clear that none of them were residents of the MK area.

What was clear was that those residents who did attend the meeting were largely if not wholly against the completely unacceptable development being proposed.

Most councillors in support of the development were clearly voting along party lines rather than representing (and supporting) the residents who will be hugely adversely affected by the development if it ever goes ahead.

From my recollection at no time did a single councillor give a reasoned argument as to why we should have the development.

Several challenges were made to the accuracy of the application, including the fact that many of the photographs used in the submission were misleading and 'doctored' to underplay the true visual impact of the proposed turbines.

None of these challenges were defended by either the developer or those supporting the development.

As a member of public at the very least I would have expected some deferment of the meeting in order to investigate further these challenges made.

Although the question 'why are the turbines so high?' was never answered in the meeting it is clear to everybody that it is because there is no commercially viable wind levels at the proposed site without having to install the highest wind turbines in this country.

■ SIR – Milton Keynes Council has spent the best part of last year eulogising about everything to do with William Cowper and his part in the anti-slavery movement.

What better way to preserve the memory of the countryside he loved than to erect some enormous steel windmills behind his church!

If Milton Keynes Council wishes to claim Petsoe End, Olney and the surrounding area as a part of Milton Keynes (which they aren't) then surely it has a duty of care to the residents not to completely destroy their environment.

I urge the councillors who will be voting again on this matter to reject the destruction of our local environment by saying no to this wind farm.

If you look at all the logic and facts of the situation, it seems to me that anyone who thinks Petsoe End is a good place for a wind farm must be either extremely naive or have some financial interest in it.

If Milton Keynes really wants its own wind farm, build it in Milton Keynes or, here's a radical idea – somewhere windy!

The price of going green is set to rise

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

WASTE managers at Milton keynes Council hope for an even greater uptake for their garden waste collections this year, despite an increase in the price.

Since it began in 2002 Milton Keynes Council's green bins scheme has diverted more than 25,000 tonnes of garden waste from landfill to be composted on two local farms.

Last year nearly 31,000 people signed up to use the green bins and waste managers hope even more will join in 2008.

Andy Hudson, chief waste management engineer at the council said: "The scheme has been much more successful than we anticipated. We have seen it grow from 28,000 people in 2005, to 30,000 in 2006 and nearly another thousand in 2007.

"We expect to trip over 31,000 this year with the growth of the borough and with more promotion.

"Until March we also have recycling advisers knocking on people's doors to give advice about recycling and encourage people to join."

The green bins scheme was set up to help meet Government targets to reduce the amount of biodegradable waste going to landfill by 75 per cent by 2020.

"This doesn't take into account the growth of Milton Keynes, so it is probably almost a 100 per cent reduction really," Mr Hudson added.

The cost of renewing membership to the scheme this year has gone up by £1 to £16 – an extra 5p per collection.

Mr Hudson explained that this increase is to meet inflation and the rising costs of providing the service.

"It didn't increase last year so it basically makes it just over a 6 per cent increase over two years.

"The total cost is still very low at only 80p per collection..

"Some authorities charge £35 or £40 for a similar service to meet their costs completely. Ours is still subsidised."

"We are trying to make it as easy as possible for people to recycle."

Ho, ho, hose – firefighters in cash clean-up

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

THOUSANDS of coins from all over the world were collected from the Wishing Pool at thecentre:mk this week, ready to be donated to a wildlife hospital.

Firefighters from Buckinghamshire Fire and Rescue Service in Broughton donned their wellies at Middleton Hall on Wednesday (January 2) to remove the coins from the water display and clean them.

The water had begun to drain away that morning, but it was still ankle deep when the firefighters started their work at 4pm.

The coins, thrown in by shoppers, were removed from the well in buckets with holes in the bottom before they were taken to a car park to be cleaned by the fire service's powerful spray hoses.

> Even in the first few days we could see quite a lot of money in there so we are optimistic
> – thecentre:mk spokesman Yvonne Shuttleworth

The firefighters used 2,500 litres of detergent to make the coins sparkle.

The Wishing Pool was part of this year's Christmas show – Wind in the Willows, and was bigger than ever as the river stretched from one side of Middleton Hall to the other.

In keeping with the display's wildlife theme, thecentre:mk has chosen to donate this year's collection to Tiggywinkles, The Wildlife Hospital Trust.

The trust will put the money towards various projects at its centre in Haddenham, near Aylesbury, including a large flight aviary for red kites, education centre and a seal and swan sanctuary.

thecentre:mk managers hope to have collected at least £25,000 for the charity, to meet or beat last year's record.

Centre spokesman Yvonne Shuttleworth said: "Even in the first few days we could see quite a lot of money in there so we are optimistic."

Robert Goodman, director at thecentre:mk said "While we have enjoyed bringing pleasure and delight to our customers through our Christmas display, we are also thrilled that the end result will see a vast sum of money donated to charity."

To date, the Wishing Pool appeal has seen £328,010.33 raised for charity.

Prison cell fire welcomes in the New Year

THE new year started with a blaze at Woodhill prison after a cell fire broke out only three days into 2008.

Two fire engines and crews from Great Holm attended the fire at the jail on Tattenhoe Street just after 8.30am yesterday.

Firefighters used two sets of breathing apparatus and one internal hose reel.

The fire is the first since a spate of cell fires in October caused four prison officers to be taken to hospital with smoke inhalation.

Many of the cell fires are started by an inmate using clothes or paper.

The prisoners are allowed to smoke in their cells under the new smoking laws, but not in communal areas.

Each cell fire is estimated to cause an average of £5,000 worth of damage.

In November the jail saw a 13 per cent improvement in its Fire Safety Audit, an annual report conducted by an external fire safety expert.

The prison received a 73 per cent rating, up on its previous score of 60 per cent.

Governor Luke Serjeant said in October: "Cell fires do not happen every day of the week, but when they do happen they can be very serious.

"The staff who deal with them have to act quickly and with courage to protect the health and possibly the lives of those involved," he said.

‘Joined-up thinking’ on multi-user homes

Turned down flats

HOMES in multiple occupancy could cause problems some city estates, a councillor has warned.

Middleton councillor Sam Crooks has mounted a campaign against applications to convert two houses into multiple occupancy accommodation in Milton Lane, Broughton.

The applications for houses at number 60 and 38 were both turned down by the council last year.

The landlords have both since appealed to the Planning Inspectorate to get the decision quashed.

Cllr Crooks is worried that if they are successful, it will lead to the spread of more HiMOs in the area.

“The point I am making is that this is an estate with a very very severe parking problem and very narrow streets,” he said.

“This is not against HiMOs in general as I think there are some estates where they work very well and they are an important contribution to our housing problems.”

He is worried that, due to national legislation, decisions about Milton Keynes made locally can be overthrown by an authority based in Bristol.

Cllr Crooks has called for both appeals to be head at an informal hearing, where residents can meet with the planning inspector to put across their concerns.

His request has been granted for the application at number 36 Milton Lane and an informal hearing is due to take place in the summer.

He is awaiting a reply for the application at number 60.

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

WORRIES of overcrowding and over concentration of multiple occupancy housing are to be discussed by a new group set up by Milton Keynes Council.

The cabinet advisory group will allow the planning and housing committees at Milton Keynes Council to work together more closely to resolve problems surrounding HiMOs (Houses in Multiple Occupancy).

The cabinet decided to set up the group at its meeting on Tuesday, December 18, following a list of recommendations from the social care and housing policy development committee.

The cabinet also decided that the Local Plan should include a limit on the number of homes in multiple occupation in certain areas and to support plans to increase the number of surveyors available to inspect homes in multiple occupation.

The group will include members of the policy development committee and the development control committee.

Councillors have raised concern that the number of HiMO applications is increasing, putting pressure on officers’ and councillors’ time.

MK Council dealt with 63 HiMO applications in 2006, and received at least 89 in 2007.

The housing department issues licences to landlords and ensures HiMOs are safe, secure, well managed and not over occupied and the planning committee decides whether a house can be converted to allow multiple occupancy.

Currently landlords pay for their licence before their application goes to the planning committee and if it is refused they do not receive a refund.

Cabinet member for housing, Irene Henderson, said this is one of the issues the council hopes to resolve by having better communication between the committees.

‘This is about getting some joint thinking going on in the council’: Cllr Irene Henderson

The group will also look at concerns about overcrowding and over concentration of multiple occupancy housing in certain areas.

Cllr Henderson said: “The issue is that HiMOs serve a useful purpose in some instances for those who can’t afford to buy or are only here for a while.

“Then, sometimes, from the planning and the community point of view, if you have too many there are worries about a very mobile population, issues of rubbish and extra parking and noise.

“This is about getting some joint thinking going on in the council and trying to bridge the conflicting legislation that each department receives from the Government.”

More ‘spies’ set to join colleagues at Hanslope

THE Foreign and Commonwealth Office (FCO) could move even more of its staff to Milton Keynes as a cost cutting measure.

In September MK NEWS reported that 400 ‘spies’ were to be housed at Hanslope where the building was millions of pounds over budget and months behind schedule.

Last week the Mail on Sunday reported that it had obtained minutes of an FCO management board meeting under the Freedom of Information Act.

It claimed that while Milton Keynes is already home to some of the FCO’s less glamorous functionaries such as the treaty section and language training department, the legalisation department could soon join them.

There will be only a small ‘drop box’ office left in London.

The Old Admiralty Building is the second-largest Foreign Office building in Whitehall and costs about £1.5million a year to heat, light and maintain.

The £30million three-storey structure being built at Hanslope Park at Her Majesty’s Government Communications Centre is set to follow in Bletchley Park’s footsteps by cracking 21st century codes.

The building – the Foreign Office’s Information and Communications Technology (ICT) Centre – links MI6 stations with embassies abroad.

It allows fast and secure connections with diplomats and spies across the world.

It is being constructed by Hemel Hempstead firm Sir Robert McAlpine, and is due to be completed by mid-January.

A spokesman for the (FCO) said in September: “Changes in IT and the security requirements resulted in design changes to the new ICT building.

“Consequently there has been a slight delay to the completion date and a small increase to the overall cost.

“It is planned that it will be handed over to the FCO in mid January.”

But MK NEWS understands that the builders – who have their own driveway into the site for use by trucks – are also behind schedule.

Yesterday Sir Robert McAlpine said nobody was available to comment.

Lone Labour voice argues against dumping elected mayor option in review of how the city is governed

Council set to be run by new 'super boss'

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

MILTON Keynes Council has thrown out proposals for a publicly elected mayor in favour of a more powerful leader.

At its meeting on Tuesday, December 11, Milton Keynes Council set up a working party to consider possible changes to democratic arrangements in the city.

This follows a Government Bill passed on October 30, which requires all councils to choose to have either an elected mayor and cabinet or enhanced leader and cabinet model.

The council chose to support plans to have an enhanced leader, who is elected by the council and would have the power to appoint his/her cabinet and determine the powers allocated to each councillor.

The cabinet is currently elected by the whole council.

The working party will look into the issue in more detail, as well as considering plans to review ward boundaries, to hold elections every four years instead of every three years out of four and, to review the number of members of the council.

The working party will also ensure that the public can give their views on any proposed changes.

However, Cllr Brian White believes these decisions should be made by the people of Milton Keynes in a referendum, rather than by the council.

"I just don't think it is right that councillors should be making this decision and not the people," he said.

"Councillors won't vote for an elected mayor as they will look after their own, the turkey wouldn't vote for Christmas.

"The people of Milton Keynes should choose who leads them.

"Why are they afraid of democracy?"

He added that an elected mayor would provide the strong voice that Milton Keynes needs and, would allow the public and media to more easily hold the council to account if things go wrong.

Council leader, Cllr Isobel McCall said: "Except for one individual nobody supports having an elected mayor as it concentrates far too much power in the hands of one individual."

She explained that even though an elected mayor may not be a member of the party with a majority in council, their power is such that they can force all kinds of decisions through.

"We have had several debates in the past but there has never been an appetite for an elected mayor," she said.

She added that the council will be reviewing all electoral arrangements in an attempt to make the system more simple for voters.

Cllr Kevin Wilson added: "The difficulty of having an elected mayor is that they would be super powerful and the potential for division with the elected councillors would be significant, as well as the potential for power being wielded in a heavy handed fashion.

"It would not be possible to replace an elected mayor for four years. There are no recall powers that would be available."

> "I just don't think it is right that councillors should be making this decision. Councillors won't vote for an elected mayor as they will look after their own. The people of Milton Keynes should choose who leads them. "Why are they afraid of democracy?

Blind dog walker attacked

A BLIND woman was attacked while she was walking her dog in Bletchley.

The 34-year-old victim, who is registered blind and has only partial sight in one eye, was assaulted in Langdale Close at around 10pm last Thursday.

A woman followed her from Burnmoor Close, before shouting abuse at her and blocking her path.

Another woman intervened but the offender ignored her pleas and hit the blind woman in the face, cutting her nose and bruising her cheekbone.

The attacker is described as white, aged between 16 and 25, 5ft 8ins to 5ft 10ins, slim, with long brown hair.

PC Barry Jones investigating this incident, said: "This was an unprovoked attack on a defenceless woman who is partially sighted.

"We're very keen to speak to the woman who asked the offender to leave the victim alone or anyone who may have witnessed the attack."

Contact PC Jones on 08458 505505.

Curry in favour

A CURRY house in Milton Keynes has been named as the best in the country.

Jaipur, on Grafton Gate East in the city centre, landed the award for Best Indian Restaurant in England, according to the Cobra Good Curry Guide 2007.

Jaipur's sister restaurant, Orchid Lounge, was named Best Thai Restaurant in England.

The guide, edited by curry critic Pat Chapman, features over 1,000 of the best Indian restaurants in the UK.

Man pleads not guilty to Boxing Day burglaries

A MAN has pleaded not guilty to two burglaries on Boxing Day.

John Clarke, 31, of Ramsons Avenue, Conniburrow, appeared at Milton Keynes Magistrates' Court last Friday charged with one count of burglary dwelling and theft and one count of burglary dwelling with intent to steal.

He allegedly broke into two properties in Downhead Park.

Mr Clarke was remanded in custody and will appear again next week, by video link.

Artist and animator Meechy in front of the Photon.React. artwork

Glow in the dark art

A GLOWING 30 metre long piece of public artwork has been unveiled.

As day becomes night the piece reveals hidden imagery and some recognisable figures in Milton Keynes at the new Sainsbury development at Witan Gate.

It incorporates photo-luminescent materials and a special under-print that blocks the glow in selected areas in a way that is almost invisible during the day.

M-O-N-O, a creative partnership consisting of artist and animator Meechy and project co-ordinator Mike Christensen designed it. It is co-funded by Milton Keynes Partnership.

Photon.React. was selected from numerous proposals for Milton Keynes Public Art unit's 'Hoarding's Public Art Project' due to its unique use of technology which encourages exploration of the image over a 24-hour period.

The Hoarding's Public Art Project was co-funded between Milton Keynes Partnership and Abbeygate Developments with the aim of introducing more public art to Central Milton Keynes via hoardings surrounding future developments.

Cop that – violent motorist surrounded by seven patrol cars

SEVEN police cars surrounded a vehicle in Manor Road in Fenny Stratford after a man became violent when police stopped his car.

Just after midnight on Monday the man was arrested on suspicion of possessing an offensive weapon and on suspicion of assaulting a police officer.

He has been released on police bail until later this month.

Chemist to move

SICK people in West Bletchley could soon have to travel half a mile from their shopping area to collect medication.

Chemist Cox and Robinson at Melrose shops has submitted plans to relocate to the Parkside Medical Centre off Whalley Drive.

But many residents who live around Melrose shops do not have cars and use the chemist to buy over-the-counter medicines.

Cllr Liz Campbell said: "Lots of the residents who live around Melrose shops are elderly and do not have access to a car.

"Not all of them are patients at Parkside. Lots of them visit the chemist to buy 'over the counter' medicines.

"The chemist provides a vital community service that will be lost in the relocation.

"Setting up a sub-branch dispensary at Parkside is a good idea, but this should not be at the expense of the Melrose shops branch."

Local businesses have also expressed concern about the impact that the closure of the chemist will have on Melrose shopping centre as a whole.

Cllr Campbell said: "At the moment, local people can visit Melrose shops and access all the services they need. There is a small supermarket, a newsagent, a chemist, a post office and a hairdressers.

"If they can't collect their prescriptions then the other shops won't benefit from the passing trade that they bring."

Mirror on the wall

MIRRORED sculptured animals in urban settings will form the next city centre exhibition at the end of January.

thecentre:mk's Whitewall will be home to a display entitled Native Series, by international artistsTim Maslen and Jennifer Mehra.

The scultpures are placed in built urban environments to reflect the man-made structures around them and then photographed.

The imagery of wildlife against the urban environments highlights the complex relationship between nature and culture.

Milton Keynes has been chosen to be part of this ongoing project, alongside images of New York, Paris and London.

The exhibition will finish in March. An exhibition catalogue is available with an essay by Edward Lucie-Smith.

Bus passengers will have arrival time signs similar to that shown inset

Signs for the times

Bus arrivals are to be displayed at city stops

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

WORK is on track to let real time bus timetables 'go live' in Milton Keynes this summer.

The system, which has been in the pipeline since 2005, will mean that passengers will no longer have to stand at stops wondering whether their bus will ever turn up.

It works by allowing them to view up-to-date bus arrival times on signs located at bus stops and on large screen displays at key destinations.

It will initially apply to routes 4, 5 and 23.

Cllr Chris Williams, cabinet member for transport, said: "Over time we hope to roll this out over every bus route.

"At the moment you have to rely on the timetable and if the bus is delayed you don't know how long you are going to stand there for."

INEO Systems has been awarded the £1.5m contract by Milton Keynes Partnership to deliver the service on behalf of MK Council.

It is part of the Central Milton Keynes public transport improvement project.

Bus provider MK Metro will implement the system which will be available to other bus companies in the city.

Displays will appear in approximately 50 bus shelters – at thecentre:mk shopping centre and Central Railway Station information will be displayed on larger stand alone displays with up to 18 lines of information.

Information will also be available on the Internet and via mobile phone text messages.

Extra time off school

AN EARLY Easter means more time off for Milton Keynes' school pupils this year as the spring break falls a week after the Christian festival.

Schoolchildren will be given two bank holiday days off as well as having the usual two week holiday.

This is because Easter falls early this year, with Good Friday on March 21 and Easter Monday on March 24.

The schools' break usually falls across the religious festivities, but to achieve that this year would mean a short spring term.

Milton Keynes Council held a month long consultation across the city's schools at the beginning of 2007 and, the 35 that responded agreed to have the spring break from Monday April 7 to Friday April 18.

A spokesman for MK Council said: "We can't change the dates for Easter, so we have to work around it."

Councils in Beds, Bucks and Northamptonshire have also gone for the same dates.

Who will deal with your affairs and welfare if you can't? Don't lose your right to choose your Attorney by waiting until its too late.

From the 1st October 2007 the Enduring Power of Attorney (EPA) has been replaced with a revised type of power called a Lasting Power of Attorney (LPA). However, EPAs made prior to 1st October will continue to be valid.

The LPA has now replaced the EPA as one of the most important legal protection mechanisms for your future. Indeed having an LPA in place is just as important as making a Will because it affects you during your lifetime. The benefit of the LPA is that it will allow you and your family the certainty of knowing who will deal with your affairs and personal welfare if you become incapable of making decisions about these things yourself. Moreover, you will have the comfort of knowing that the Attorney dealing with your affairs is the person of your choice and not someone whom the Court chooses to appoint on your behalf.

Unlike the EPA, an LPA will need to be registered with the Court of Protection before it may be used by your attorney (s). A person can make two types of LPA.

A Property and Affairs Lasting Power of Attorney (LPA) allows you to plan ahead by choosing one or more people to make decisions on your behalf regarding your property and financial affairs.

You can appoint a property and affairs Attorney to manage your finances and property whilst you still have capacity as well as when you lack capacity. For example, it may be easier for you to give someone the power to carry out tasks such as paying your bills if you find it difficult to get about. Please note that the document has to be registered before it can be used.

A personal Welfare Lasting Power of Attorney allows you to plan ahead by choosing one or more people to make decisions on your behalf regarding your personal healthcare and welfare.

As you can see the protection offered by an LPA can be invaluable. Please contact us today to see how we can help.

Knowing your options on separation could save you and your family hardship and regret in the future

"Increasing numbers of people find themselves faced with the ending of their relationship. The future has suddenly become uncertain and daunting."

If you know what your legal options are on divorce or separation it can help you with your immediate worries and in planning for the future. Neves' way is to work with you to reduce the financial and emotional impact of divorce or separation on you, and where applicable on your children and your business. We aim to help you to negotiate a settlement that will allow both of you to move on with your lives. If you have children together, this is particularly important.

Collaborative law is a process in which a couple commit to reach an agreement about financial issues and any children in a series of meetings attended by them and their solicitors. Beth Woodward is a trained collaborative lawyer and can guide you through this process.

We are experienced in advising clients with family businesses or their own companies on reducing their liability for tax upon divorce or separation. We are happy to work with other professional advisers, believing in a "joined up" approach to advise the best results for the client.

We have specialist solicitors available at all our offices dealing with all aspects of family law.

Step out and run London for Willen

A LOCAL hospice that cares for people with cancer and other life-limiting conditions is calling for marathon runners.

Willen Hospice still has some gold bond places left for the 2008 Flora London Marathon on April 13.

If you did not get a place in the national ballot and would like to run for Willen Hospice please call Sue on 01908 306991.

This is also the number to ring if you already have a place and would like to run for the hospice.

The hospice will provide you with sponsor forms and T-shirts and a pre-race reception, where you will be motivated by hearing from those who ran last year.

They will also come down to cheer you on on the day and invite you to a post-race reception where you can relax, have a glass of bubbly and show them your blisters.

Bowl of vomit left in A&E

BY ROB GIBSON
rob.gibson@mk-news.co.uk

A COUNCILLOR has slammed hygiene standards at Milton Keynes Hospital after a bowl of vomit was left in a waiting area for more than four hours.

Sam Potts was waiting with a friend in the Accident and Emergency department at at 1.40am on December 20 when he spotted a bowl of vomit, a half-eaten sandwich and other litter around the seating area.

He said: "It was still there when we left at six in the morning. It was a mess but I couldn't see any cleaners anywhere. Patients expect their hospital to be clean."

The incident comes in the same week that the hospital announced the re-launch of the 'clean-yourhands' campaign,.

A mission statement said the campaign would help to further reduce healthcare-associated infections by improving the hand hygiene of healthcare workers.

Bob Heavisides, director of facilities, said: "I apologise if users felt our service was not up to the standard expected on this particular occasion. We do have specialist cleaners available 24/7 to clear up any spillages or mess.

rust is currently increasing its cleaning capacity and we are in the process of recruiting additional dedicated overnight cover."

Julie Orr, A&E Matron, said: "A&E is particularly busy at this time of year and over 200 patients visit every day in December and January."

Bar staff told: 'No drinks for drunks'

BY ROB GIBSON
rob.gibson@mk-news.co.uk

POLICE in Milton Keynes will fine bar staff caught serving drunk customers.

Licensed premises will be targeted across the city and bar staff caught serving drink to people who are 'very drunk' will be issued with fixed penalty notices of £80.

The move is part of Operation Deny, which is aimed at reducing alcohol related violent crime and plain clothed officers will be on patrol over the festive season.

A police statement said: "Last weekend a member of bar staff at a licensed venue was observed by officers serving an alcoholic drink to a drunk customer.

"This member of staff was issued with a fixed penalty notice of £80."

Lin Poizat, licensing officer said: "The operation will encourage the use of powers contained within the Licensing Act 2003, in particular section 141, which makes it an offence to sell alcohol to people who are drunk.

"The campaign is timed to coincide with a seasonal peak of excessive and problematic drinking and it is anticipated that the warning of enforcement with regard to these offences, particularly the sales to drunks, will have a considerable and positive impact across the whole licensing trade and will make Milton Keynes a safer and more enjoyable place to be on a night out."

Volunteers aid ambulance staff

AMBULANCE staff have been supported by volunteers to help cope with the expected increase in emergency calls over the festive period.

South Central Ambulance Service's Community First Responders, who are trained to administer first aid and life-saving measures such as defibrillation and CPR (Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation), have been volunteering their services over Christmas and the New Year.

Responders are sent to calls within a small radius of their base – often their local village where they may be able, for instance, to begin CPR ahead of the ambulance crew arriving.

Even if this is only a matter of a minute or so, it can improve someone's chances of survival.

The scheme was set up in Buckinghamshire earlier this year.

Dick Tracey, the divisional responder manager for Oxfordshire and Buckinghamshire, said: "With over 200 Responder Schemes across this division, we have a fantastic wealth of volunteers.

"The fact that many of them are prepared to work with us over the holidays is something we are very proud of."

John Nichols, divisional director, added: "Although we may take it for granted that our paid control room staff and clinicians will be working across the holidays, their efforts are nonetheless very much appreciated. Added to that is support from our Community First Responders, which is also very welcome and I am delighted that we are able to provide this excellent service to patients."

PETER LESLIE READ

Passed away 4th December 2007 at St. John's Hospice, Moggerhanger after an illness bravely fought, aged 76 years.
Much loved husband to Doreen, precious dad to Jeff and Sharon, father-in-law to Sheila and Mark, grandad and great grandad.
Peter will be sadly missed by everyone.
A big thank you to all staff at the Hospice and to the Reverend Scott Watts, Hospice Chaplain for all his help and comfort.
Also to Clarabut & Plumbe.
The funeral was held on 12th December 2007 at Norse Road Crematorium.
Please accept this as the only acknowledgement.

In Memoriam

HEATHER LOUISE BURGESS
31st December 2004
Heaven made me an angel,
Then sent her from above,
Just to be our Daughter,
And fill our world with love.

We never thought there'd be a time,
That we would have to part,
When heaven took our angel back,
They left our broken hearts.
Loving you always
Mum, Dad & Phil

David Worral Newton
20 July 1930 - 5 January 1983

It's hard to believe that 25 years have passed since you were taken so suddenly from us. You are still remembered and missed, we talk about things you used to say and do, and remember days out and family holidays with much fondness.
The years may have flown by and many things have changed, but not our memories of you – father and husband.
Today we will raise our glasses and toast happy times.

With all our love
Tina & Christine.

MUSIC REVIEWS

PIECE OF ME
Britney Spears

I've had a lovely break for Christmas, I've recharged my batteries and I'm looking forward to all the wonderful music that 2008 is going to bring me.

But first, this. Do you know something, when they've finished making this song it might actually be good. Now, I appreciate that singers these days sometimes take advantage of modern technology to ensure that they sing the right notes, but her voice has been manipulated and processed so much it's like being serenaded by a Speak And Spell, and when that happens you know someone's got a little bit carried away.

Trouble is, the tune's hardly any consolation. A couple of beats coupled with what sounds like someone walking along a gravel driveway is apparently more than enough as far as the percussion goes, and the tune, such as it is, could be played by a three year-old after one listen.

And what the hell is going on with the squawking parrot that crops up every so often?

There's so much wrong with this song it almost comes all the way back round to becoming good – but not quite.

RELAX, TAKE IT EASY
Mika

SO,I couldn't stand Grace Kelly, I didn't like Love Today, Big Girl made me angry and I can take or leave Happy Ending.

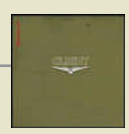
Previous form is not on Mika's side, I think it's safe to say. Oh, and I'm also not a fan of falsetto singing. Blimey, talk about having the odds stacked up against you.

Oh yeah, one more thing, remember the band Cutting Crew from the mid-80s?

Their songs were rubbish and all. And so was Johnny Hates Jazz, er, hang on, I'm getting carried away now. To be fair to Cutting Crew, I mentioned them for a reason. The very start of this song sounds eerily similar to (I Just) Died In Your Arms, which can be found on any good driving rock album – best of luck finding one of those, you've probably got more chance of getting a unicorn for your birthday.

Anyway, that's what it sounds like to me, only much, much poppier and not rubbish. That's odd.

Then Mika starts singing and I have to be honest here, but on this occasion the big-haired troubadour delivers the goods without showing off. He doesn't suddenly start screeching, he keeps his arms and legs within the carriage at all times and even when he does go for the high notes, I'm willing to accept that he's got good reason to do so, which I suppose means that Mika's finally released a single that I don't mind, which of course puts the pressure right back on Johnny Hates Jazz.



LIGHTS GO OUT
Client

IT'S hard not to feel sorry for Client. They're probably destined to be one of those bands that never quite made it, which is a shame really as there are far worse bands around that are doing much better than them.

Mind you, this sounds a bit Pet Shop Boys with the big lead-in at the start, but as soon as the beat kicks in it all goes glam rock.

However, this one sounds a bit lighter than previous Client singles, which normally may have helped them win valuable airtime on radio stations across the land, but I like this song.

Maybe that's the answer to all their problems, if this lot release a single that I hate, it'll be No1 within a week of release.

THE SNOW QUEEN
Until Sunday. 7.30pm
OVER snow covered mountains across shing glaciers and shifting ice-flows, lies a glittering palace.
Within its icy walls lives the Snow Queen, daughter of ice giants and goddess of winter, a shimmering beauty but with a cold and evil heart. She will not rest until all the nine worldsare frozen and all things good are turned bad.
Battling through blizzards, Gerda and Freya travel over the rainbow bridge from middle earth to the land of gods and trolls to rescue their brothers from the Snow Queen's icy grasp.
Based on Hans Christian Anderson's classic tale, a world of fantasy and imagination mingles with everyday reality and becomes a very special show for everyone to enjoy this Christmas.
Tickets from £14.50

GARDENLIFE

Filling the Christmas tree gap

CHRISTMAS is over and when the tree is down it can feel as though there is a big gap to fill.

This is the time to bring some beautiful jungly foliage plants into your home.

Your initial choice of leafy plant should be based on where you want to situate it in your home.

Have a look around: are there any draughts, how much light will your plant get both in winter and summer, how much space will it have to grow, and how much care are you able to give?

Palms look exotic but are also strong and elegant. Available in many sizes, palms require a reasonable level of light and have a graceful and exotic look.

Parlour Palm, Chamaedorea elegans: This slow-growing, dwarf palm is one of the best choices for low light. You'll find it available in sizes ranging from only eight or ten inches – perfect for a desk or coffee table – to several feet. It does best in warm temperatures so keep away from leaky windows and cold halls.

Kentia Palm, Howea Forsterana, is a tall, stately, slender plant with gracefully arching large fronds. Kentia palms prefer medium light, but are less sensitive to cool temperatures. Though slow growing, a Kentia palm is capable of eventually reaching the ceiling.

Ficus are some of the most handsome and durable plants you can grow. Known for their glossy, leathery leaves they offer something for everyone.

Ficus benjamina or weeping fig: These plants are notorious for dropping leaves when they're moved from one location to another; luckily, they develop lots of new foliage fairly rapidly, as long as they get reasonable amounts of light.

Ficus elastica or rubber plant: You may find variegated as well as burgundy-coloured versions of this old favourite. With large, stiff leaves and woody stems, this plant could become an indoor tree!

Water them thoroughly with tepid water and don't stop until you see water coming through the pots drain holes. Don't let the soil get bone dry between watering. (It can get slightly drier in winter.)

Feed lightly from late winter through early autumn.

Spider mites are attracted to dusty foliage particularly when humidity is low indoors. A good tip to counter the drying effect of central heating is to fill a large saucer with water and pebbles. Stand the pot on the pebbles, not in the water and the water around the pebbles will evaporate creating a humid microclimate for the plant.

Ficus can grow rapidly with minimal attention, provided they receive adequate light. Luckily, pruning tends to encourage branching and results in fuller growth. Other favourites: The Spider plant (Chlorophytum) is great for hanging baskets or putting on a shelf to tumble down.

Striped Dracaena (Dracaena deremensis 'Warneckii'). This plant can go for up to two weeks without watering

Jade or money plant (crassula) – a very tough easy plant.

PAPA JOHN'S
High Street, Newport Pagnell

www.papajohns.co.uk
Review by Alicia Babaee

KICKING back with a pizza and a DVD is one of my favourite things to do on a Friday night.

But you've got to get the snacks right. Pizza on its own just won't do and all too often the extras don't cut the mustard.

Unless you get them from Papa John's in Newport Pagnell.

We had a feast fit for a king, and the only thing we could find to complain about was the fact that we were so stuffed afterwards that we couldn't breathe.

Our tastebuds were tickled by three large pizzas - Cheese and Tomato (£9.99), The Mexican (£13.49) and All the Meats (£13.99).

There are great offers such as 'Papa's Pickup' where you can collect any pizza, any size, for £9.49, 'Early Bird' where you can have any pizza, any size, delivered for £9.49 or 'Bigger and Better' where you get any extra large pizza, any side order and two litres of pop for £15.49).

In addition to the pizza we had a fantastic 10ins garlic pizza bread (£2.99), Papa's chicken dippers (£3.99) Papa's battered prawns (£4.99) and chicken wings (£3.99).

I've never ordered a dessert from a pizza place before. Major error, because they are amazing.

We tried the Pot au Chocolate (£2.79) which is heaven in a pot and one I'll definitely be having again, Chockarocka pie (£2.19) which was delicious and Banoffie pie (£2.19).

They do deals if you double on any of their sides or desserts.

You can get two Ben and Jerry's tubs (500ml) added to your order for £6 or two 500ml soft drinks for £1.79.

Other pizzas that sound as though they're worth trying include the The Italian Job which has salami, pepperoni, spicy sausage and the fajita pizza which has a fajita pizza sauce, onion, beef and peppers.

There's also the opportunity to create your own.

So next time you're curled up on the sofa feeling peckish, I'd definitely give Papa John's a go.

PR and Marketing Executive

CiB

Strong and proactive communications are at the heart of our aspiration to be the UK's first choice for internal communication professionals.

We have more than 1,100 members who comprise a powerful network and drive performance. They lead change and inspire success for the UK's best organizations, large and small.

We're looking for an experienced and creative communicator to help raise our profile externally, build relationships with internal and external stakeholders and to establish CiB as the informed voice on internal communication.

The role is two days a week, ideally at CiB's Milton Keynes HQ, although flexibility will be required. The salary for this role is around £13,000 a year depending on the candidate.

The successful candidate will be expected to:
- Contribute creative PR and marketing ideas to our overall strategy
- Research and write targeted national and regional press releases
- Create a programme of scheduled campaigns to attract media interest based on topics/events relevant to the CiB
- Create a programme of marketing campaigns to include membership, events and strategic issues
- Proactively suggest opportunities to promote the CiB as the "voice" of informed comment on IC topics
- Demonstrate a real passion for communication.

Please send your application to Kathie Jones, Chief Executive, CiB, Oak House, Woodlands Business Park, Linford Wood, Milton Keynes MK14 6EY by Friday 18th January – with a one page summary of your talents to support your application. We shall be interviewing a short-list of candidates in central London with the aim of appointing early in February for commencement at the beginning of March – initially for a one-year period.

Any representation must be received by 23/01/08.

Full details of the application can be viewed via The Licensing Register at the Civic Offices of the Council. This is accessible Mondays to Thursday between the hours of 9am to 5pm, and Friday 9am to 4pm (excluding bank holidays) or online at www.mkweb.co.uk/licensing.

Representations received in response to this application will be made available for public inspection in accordance with the provisions of the Licensing Act 2003 and must relate to one or more of the licensing objectives (namely crime and disorder; public nuisance; public safety; or protection of children from harm).

Residents making representations must live in the vicinity of the premise.

It is an offence to knowingly or recklessly make a false statement in connection with an application and the maximum fine of £5,000 is liable on summary conviction for the offence.

Any interested party or responsible authority wishing to make representations in respect of this application must do so in writing to the following address: Licensing Team, Environment Directorate, Milton Keynes Council, PO Box 105, Civic Offices, 1 Saxon Gate East, Milton Keynes MK9 3HH 01908 252800 email: licensing@milton-keynes.gov.uk

Conditions of Advertising
LSN Media
(the publisher)

GENERAL

1. The publisher reserves the right to omit or suspend any advertisement even though accepted and paid for and to make any alterations necessary to maintain standards of the newspaper. The publisher also declines responsibility for the omission of a single advertisement or one or more of a series of advertisements from any cause whatsoever, nor do they accept liability for any loss or damage caused by an error or inaccuracy in the printing of an advertisement. (Advertisers are advised to check their advertisement after the insertion). No re-insertions refund or adjustment will be made where an error, mis-print or omission does not materially detract from the advertisement. The Publisher may at its sole discretion re-insert the whole or part of the advertisement with corrections or refund part or the whole value of the advertisement.
2. The publisher reserves the right to decline any advertisement without giving an explanation or which they deem the content unsuitable for publication, whether an order has been accepted or not. The publisher will not accept orders for advertisements which it deems offensive or defamatory or which infringe the Trades Description Act 1968 and The British Code of Advertising Standards Authority on such matters.
3. An order for advertising services placed by an advertiser or an advertising agency on behalf of an advertiser constitutes an assurance that necessary authorisation or permission has been granted in respect of the use of the advertisement itself, pictorial representation of a living person, references made and words attributed to a living person and text which may be the subject of copyright protection.
4. Printed conditions on advertisement orders will not be recognised as binding unless expressly accepted in writing by the publishers.
5. Advertising rates involving a series, volume or prepayment discount are expressly for the use of the advertiser concerned and are not to divulged to a third party.
6. All artwork designed by the LSN Studio remains the property of LSN Media. Where artwork services are provided, it is on the understanding that it is for the sole use in any of the LSN Media publications unless prior agreement is sought, any unauthorised reproduction will result in a charge being levied on the publisher concerned.
7. Proofs of advertisements are provided upon request but cannot be guaranteed. Where a proof is supplied, the onus is on the recipient to check that all information is correct and to provide the publisher with any neccesary alterations or amendments before the expiration of the deadline. The publisher will not accept responsibility for errors in any advertisement where a proof is supplied and subsequently authorised for publication.
8. Although every effort will be made to meet advertisers requirements, specified positions cannot be guaranteed within the newspaper.
9. All advertisements which carry a premium telephone number must comply with the Code of Practice of The Independent Committee for the supervision of Standards of Telephone Information Services (CSTIS).
10. The advertiser (or his advertising agency) shall indemnify the publisher in respect of all costs, damages or any other charges as the result of legal action or the threat of legal action arising from the publisher of a single advertisement for a series of advertisements, published in accordance with copy instructions supplied to the publisher in pursuance of the advertiser or his advertising agency's order.
11. If an advertisement does not appear due to copy or artwork being supplied after the agreed deadline, the space will be payable in full at the published rates.
12. A request to insert an advertisement assumes acceptance of our Terms & Conditions of Advertising.

DISTRIBUTION

1. Unless otherwise stated, distribution will normally take place within the specified publication to the individual addresses which usually receive the publication within the area and on the date scheduled. This does not necessarily imply 100% delivery to all addresses within the area.
2. The publisher shall not be liable for total or partial non delivery of any publication in which an advertisement is scheduled to appear and no reinsertion, refund or adjustment will be made to the advertiser.

BOX NUMBERS

While every endeavour will be made to forward replies to box numbers to the advertiser as soon as possible, no liability will be accepted by the publisher in respect of any loss, damage or delay in forwarding such replies.

CANCELLATION

1. Cancellation of advertisements must be advised 24 hours prior to the booking deadline. If the publisher is unable to resell the space he reserves the right to charge for any loss of revenue incurred.
2. If any advertiser in receipt of a series, volume or prepayment discount cancels before fulfilling the terms of the agreed order, the publisher reserves the right to make a surcharge up to the full published rates for the type of advertisement.
3. Queries concerning cancelled advertisements must be accompanied by the stop number given at the time of cancellation.

PAYMENT

1. Credit facilities are at the discretion of the publisher, but such facilities are limited to strict terms of 30 days. Late payment of account may lead to suspension of account facilities. Any discount which the publisher may have agreed with the advertiser may be forfeit should the advertiser fail to meet the agreed credit terms.
2. Prepaid accounts must be settled by no later than the two days prior to publication. The publisher reserves the right to suspend any advertisement where payment has not been received.
3. Dishonoured cheques will incur a £20 administration fee.

All rates are subject to VAT at the rate currently in force at the time of any advertisement is booked to appear.

PREVIEWS

ROTHERHAM UNITED League Two
Saturday, January 5. KO 3pm
Millmoor

ROTHERHAM present another huge test for MK Dons as the two sides lock horns for the first time this season.

The Millers have experienced the same slippery slope down the leagues that the Dons have and they too are looking to bounce back to League One this year.

And so far they are on target as they continue to occupy the automatic/play-off spaces.

They have been going steady in the league with 12 wins, seven of those on their own turf, but Rotherham have had the odd shock result.

None more so than when they were knocked out of the FA Cup by in their first round replay with Forest Green, who beat them 3-0 at Millmoor.

However, since then the Millers have won five of their last six matches and will be hoping to make a dent in the Dons' lead at the top.

GILLINGHAM
JPT Area semi-final
Tuesday, January 8. KO 7.45pm
Prestfield Stadium

ANOTHER League One side stands in the way of the Dons and their dream date with Wembley.

It has been a far from easy route to the area semi-finals for the Dons who have had to get passed Peterborough United and AFC Bournemouth to set up the match with Gillingham.

The Gills are having a mixed season to note, they are four points clear of relegation but floating around in 18th place.

The home side will be without Stuart Thurgood who serves the final of his three match ban.

Luke Howell will be looking for a place in the starting line-up against the team he signed his first professional contract with.

If the score is tied at the end of ninety minutes, it will go straight to penalties, there is no extra time.

THE match official appointments have been announced for the Dons' upcoming games.

Dave Foster will be in charge of their match away to Rotherham on Saturday. Foster has refereed 15 games this season, handed out 42 yellow cards and four reds.

And Dean Whitestone will referee the Johnstone's Paint Trophy clash with Gillingham.

It is the first time Whitestone has been the official for the Dons this season. In his 16 games he has shown 61 yellows and five reds.

TICKETS for the Dons' trip to Bury are now on sale.

The lowly Shakers will host the Dons at Gigg Lane knowing Paul Ince's side will be looking for revenge following their opening day defeat to Bury. An initial allocation of 250 tickets has been given for the away section and they are currently on sale at the Dons' box office.

Adult tickets cost £14 and concessions are £7, you can order you ticket by calling the box office on 01908 622900.

ON-LOAN Dons duo Sam Collins and Sam Page had a tough start to the new year as they faced AFC Wimbledon.

The defenders, regulars in the Hendon back line, were on the losing side in the Isthmian Premier Division fixture, with AFC Wimbledon turning out to be 3-2 winners.

Meanwhile, winger Mustapha Carayol was an injury time substitute in Crawley Town's 2-0 win over Oxford United and Keiran Murphy was an unused sub for the Reds.

MK DONS v DARLINGTON SATURDAY, DECEMBER 29

Luke Howell gets above Rob Purdie as Mark Wright looks to pick up the pieces

Stirling effort pays off for ace Johnson

BY SIMONE CORGAN
simone.corgan@mk-news.co.uk

SUPER-SUB can be an over used phrase in football, but in Jemal Johnson's case it is the perfect description.

The striker netted his second goal in as many games after coming off the bench to help MK Dons overcome Darlington with a 1-0 win.

Although it may have been the slimmest of victories, it was a massive result in terms of the Dons' hunt for promotion.

The Quakers have been right up there with the pick of the league all season, so two 1-0 wins over them will have been a huge boost to Paul Ince's side.

And to be the only team to have gone to Darlington and come away with more than a point reinstates their class in League Two.

It was not the prettiest of matches to be played over the festive period with a torn-up pitch and difficult weather conditions contributing to a fairly dull first half.

Mark Wright had the better of the Dons' chances when a shot from Keith Andrews deflected in front of him but for once the tricky winger could not find the finish and fluffed his lines.

Out for the boys: Dons fans celebrate the winner

Both Julian Joachim and Ian Miller had efforts fall wide while Clark Keltie forced Willy Gueret into action with a low drive.

The home side picked up pace after the interval with Pawel Abbott and Robert Purdie looking bright and creating chances.

The latter was denied what could have been a spectacular point-blank volley as Gueret pulled off a reaction save before Abbott fired wide with the follow-up.

A few eyebrows were raised when Jude Stirling was brought on in the 64th minute to partner Johnson, who was introduced at the same time, up front.

Yet it proved to be a tactical move well worth the risk as he played in Johnson on the edge of the box, who then played a quick one-two with right before squeezing in the winner.

Only three days earlier Johnson had done exactly the same at Notts County after only five minutes on the pitch.

The solo goal took Johnson's individual tally to five and could prove invaluable at the end of the season.

MK DONS v MANSFIELD SATURDAY, JANUARY 1

Keith Andrews left fires in the winner from a free kick

Keeper Carl Mugleton lies in despair as Mark Wright and Drew Broughton turn away in triumph after the Dons take the lead

One-nil the way to win

BY SIMONE CORGAN
simone.corgan@mk-news.co.uk

MK Dons started the New Year like they finished the last, with a 1-0 win.

Mansfield Town were the unfortunate team faced with the task of putting an end to the Dons' unbeaten run of six games and it proved to be mission impossible for the relegation-threatened side.

For the third consecutive match the score line stood one for the Dons, none for their opposition and the push for promotion shows no signs of stuttering.

However, as the narrow victory would suggest, it did not go all the Dons' way as the Stags battled hard and stifled attacks.

There is a real fight in Mansfield which makes their position in the league, second from bottom and three points from safety, appear harsh on Billy Dearden's team.

Perhaps if they had better luck they may have been able to test the Dons all the way, but fifteen minutes in the visitors must have known it just was not going to be there day.

First top scorer Michael Boulding went off clutching his hamstring and when his replacement John McAliskley pulled up quarter of an hour later it seemed as though the writing was on the wall for the Stags.

Opportunities had fallen to the Dons with Mark Wright and Drewe Broughton heading over the bar and Keith Andrews having his shot cleared off the line, but there had been no break through.

Danny Sleath gave every reason for the visitors to go in at half-time with plenty of hope as he had their best chance just before the break after he broke into the box and his left-footed strike was charged down by Willy Gueret.

It was clearly the inspiration they needed with their best period coming in the ten minutes following the restart.

Yet, the Dons dealt the cruellest of blows, just as it looked like the Stags could take a shock lead they were back in their half and a goal behind.

A master strike from Andrews was all that separated the sides at full-time, but it was a free-kick of superb quality that deserves to win matches.

Stags keeper Carl Muggleton did managed to get a touch on the fierce delivery as it smashed the inside of the bar and fell through to the back of the net.

The goal quickly put an end to any dreams of the Stags leaving stadiummk with a point, once behind they never looked like coming back and when Danny Swailes had a volley saved on the line by Muggleton it was just a case of defending to prevent the Dons from doubling the lead.

ICE HOCKEY

Clarke inspires with hat-trick

MK Lightning stormed back to winning ways in the English Premier League by thumping Telford Tigers 10-1.

Former Tiger Gary Clarke was inspirational for Lightning leading the goal scoring with a hat-trick to his name as they fired from all cylinders.

Lightning had suffered in their results during the hectic Christmas schedule with only a narrow win at Wightlink to cheer about.

But they put their festive hangovers behind them to keep their hands on third place, a point in front of Slough Jets who have played the same number of games.

Lightning's intentions were clear from the offset as Clarke fired in the opener with three minutes on the clock. His second came five minutes later, the result of a move started by net minder Barry Hollyhead, before Toni Alasaarela played in Clarke to double their lead.

Telford were holding their own in the first period with Dean Tonks pulling one back for the visitors five minutes before the break.

But that was as good as it got for the Tigers as Grant McPherson added a third midway through the second and Clarke then bagged his hat-trick with assistance from Ales Parez.

The final period was when Lightning really hit their form as the tired Tigers fell apart.

Parez turned from goal provider to a scorer straight from the restart and Alasaarela joined him three minutes later.

With Lightning being five in front it was time for the youngsters to get involved with 18-year-old Danny Chaplen claiming a rare goal on the 47th minute.

The more experienced players then played their part in the goal scoring front, with Adam Randmall getting on the score sheet after player-coach Nick Poole netted eight with help from Alasaarela and Aiden Mahmud.

Ross Bowers then rounded off the rampant display for Lighting four minutes from time to seal a more than convincing win.

■ LIGHTNING have secured the second-leg of their EPL Cup semi-final as a home match. They will travel to Bracknell Bees on January, 16 for an 8pm face-off before hosting Bracknell on the 24th. Face-off is at 7.45pm.

■ TOMORROW Lightning host Swindon Wildcats at Planet Ice, face-off is at 7pm.

MOTOR RACING

Big things expected of Red Bull's new motor

THE car that holds the hopes and aspirations for Red Bull Racing's 2008 season will be unveiled in two weeks time.

On January, 16 the RB4 will make its debut at the Jerez race track in Spain where testing the machine will begin.

The car has a lot to live up to as it succeeds the RB3 which earned the Milton Keynes-based team 24 points and led them to a record fifth place in the constructors' championship.

But by the same token the new car will be expected be a finer running machine as the RB3 was plagued with unreliability problems which forced drivers Mark Webber and David Coulthard to retire on numerous occasions.

With Geoff Willis and Adrian Newey the brains behind the new machine, big things are expected.

Yet, team principal Christian Horner is just looking for improvements, he said: "In 2007 we gave away approximately 24 points as a result of poor reliability, without which we would have been much closer to Renault and ahead of Williams," he explained.

"This is therefore one of our key focuses for 2008. With the same engine as the factory Renault team they, more than any other team, are our barometer. 2008 is certainly set to be another very close season."

Lions turn out for injured star

MK Lions players and coach Vince Macauley took part in a charity basketball game during their Christmas break.

The Guildford Heat versus BBL All-Stars match was dedicated to Brian Dux, the Guildford point guard who suffered life-threatening injuries in a car crash in November. The player is now recovering back home in the USA.

Macauley and Mike New were among the stars who featured in the match in front of a packed out 12,000 people.

Guildford were the eventual winners in the closely fought match, the final score reading 108 - 92 in their favour.

Local football

STONY STRATFORD TOWN are up to fourth place in division one of the South Midlands league following their 1-0 win over Buckingham Athletic.

WINSLOW UNITED ended their year on a high note with a 2-0 win over Brache Sparta while NEW BRADWELL ST PETER drew 2-2 with Ampthill Town.

In division two MURSLEY UNITED beat Padbury United 3-2 but then lost 1-0 to Kings Langley and OLD BRADWELL UNITED lost 4-1 to Crawley Green.

NEWPORT PAGNELL TOWN continued their slump in the United Counties premier division as they conceded four goals for the second time in three games as they lost 4-0 to Blackstones.

OLNEY TOWN had better fortunes in division one as they beat Daventry United 2-1.

Ex-Tiger Clarke bares teeth his for Lightning

Ince is top boss for second time

PAUL Ince has picked up his second Manager of the Month accolade this season.

The Dons boss steered his side to the top of League Two at the end of September and they are continuing to lead the way as they currently sit eight points clear.

The last time the Dons lost in the league was at the end of November to Chesterfield, since then they have gone on a six game unbeaten run, picking up 16 of the 19 points available to them in December, beating promotion-chasing Peterborough United and Darlington on the way.

Fortyone-year-old Ince claimed the award in October and is the first League Two manager to have won the award twice in the 2007-08 campaign.

Chris Kamara, chairman of the Coca-Cola Manager of the Month Awards panel, said:

"Paul Ince continues to do a fantastic job at MK Dons and his reputation as one of the best young managers in the game is growing all the time.

"There was lots of speculation linking Paul with the vacant managers job at Derby a month or so ago but full credit to him for the way in which he remained focused on the job in hand with the Dons."

Knight rides out to join rivals Wycombe

BY SIMONE CORGAN

simone.corgan@mk-news.co.uk

LEON Knight has played his last game for MK Dons.

MK NEWS understands Knight will under go a medical with local rivals Wycombe Wanderers this morning and the deal should be tied up by midday.

The two clubs are already thought to have made a formal agreement for an undisclosed fee.

Paul Ince made a clear message in his programme notes ahead of the Mansfield Town match saying the transfer window would be used to move a striker in and a striker out.

He said: "Striker-wise, we haven't scored as many goals as we would like. It's something that I'm looking at so it could be a case of one in, one out."

Knight, whose contract is up in the summer, had fallen out of favour with Ince and had not featured in a Dons line up since the 1-0 win at Dagenham and Redbridge at the start of December when he came on as a substitute .

The pint-sized forward was however, a last minute replacement on the bench for their New Year's Day clash with Mansfield after Matt Carbon was forced to withdraw just before kick-off.

It was in the January transfer window last year when Knight arrived from Swansea having been snapped up by then manager Martin Allen.

He was drafted in as extra fire power, behind Clive Platt and Izale McCleod, yet only managed one goal in his 18 appearances – 11 of those coming from the bench.

When Ince took control in the summer his future looked much brighter. He started as the first-choice striker and scored three goals in as many games.

But Knight, a former Chelsea trainee, is believed to have fallen out with Ince behind the scenes and with the Dons in fine form he has struggled to regain a place in the squad.

The 25-year-old made 36 appearances and bagged six goals in his time with the club.
